The Fullness of Joy

Psalm 16

---

Joy begins with a “bet the farm” faith.

Joy is reinforced by enjoying godly people.

Joy is enhanced when we see the giver in the gift.

Joy rests in God’s guidance and protection.

Results: Full on satisfaction

- God never abandons His own.
- God emanates ultimate, eternal joy.

My Application

Use the following questions this week to reflect on what it would mean to align yourself with the truths taught in Scripture. Each question is meant for both personal reflection and as a catalyst for discussion with your family, friends, or small group.

1. What “good thing” gives you a sense of security? (How would you finish these statements: “Life will be good if _____ happens.” Or, “Life will not be good if _____ happens.”)
2. Do you delight in the companionship of others who follow God? What do you sacrifice in order to be in their company?
3. Why does recognizing God as the giver cause us to get more joy from our material possessions?
4. Describe a time when God has guided or protected you. How does an awareness of this experience affect your outlook on the future?

Memory Verse

“And I pray that you, being rooted and established in love, may have power, together with all the saints, to grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ, and to know this love that surpasses knowledge – that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God.”

- Ephesians 3:17b-19
