

WAITING FOR SOMEDAY

Commitment

Luke 6:46-49

- 1) Our good intentions deceive us.
- 2) The foundation of tomorrow is laid today.
- 3) Is your life being built to last?

My Application

Use the following questions this week to reflect on what it would mean to align yourself with the truths taught in Scripture. Each question is meant for both personal reflection and as a catalyst for discussion with your family, friends, or small group.

1. Read Luke 6:46 – 49. Why would someone call Jesus, “Lord” and not do what He says?
2. In what way does commitment limit options? What is the danger of keeping your options open?
3. Conventional wisdom, popular opinion, or personal preferences are often at odds with what Jesus says. Identify something in your life that “sounded good,” but led to trouble when you built your life on it.
4. Name one thing you know Jesus says about your time, your money, or your relationships. What commitments would you need to make in order to put that into practice in your life?

Memory Verse

*“Why, you do not even know what will happen tomorrow. What is your life?
You are a mist that appears for a little while and then vanishes.”*

- James 4:14
