My Application

Use the following questions this week to reflect on what it would mean to align yourself with the truths taught in Scripture. Each question is meant for both personal reflection and as a catalyst for discussion with your family, friends, or small group.

1. What are the characteristics of the 144,000 listed in Rev. 14? Based on what you have studied in Revelation, what will life be like for these men? How will their faithfulness be rewarded?
2. God is still appealing to people to be saved right up to the end. See Rev. 14:6-7. How does this fit with the character of God? See 2 Peter 3:9, 1 Tim. 2:4.
3. What will those who come under the judgment of God face as punishment? See Rev. 14:9-11. Is this another description of the lake of fire in Rev. 20:10-15?
4. Examine the parable of the weeds in Matt. 13:24-30 and the interpretation in Matt. 13:36-42. What does this tell us about the end? Does it make you sad to read about the end? What are you doing to rescue people?

Memory Verse

"And the smoke of their torment rises for ever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name."
